S.W.O.T. Brainstorming of Older Adult Issues in the City of Vaughan by Task Force

(Note: List below is not prioritized, nor is considered exclusive of issues related to older adults)

Strengths

- Wonderful library services in Vaughan
- Existing Vaughan Fire and Rescue Services' (VFRS) "Alarm for Life" Program- firefighters are assisting older adults by checking smoke alarms/changing batteries on alarms and alerting social services of any issues relating to health and safety of seniors
- VFRS – growing role in community safety partnerships to ensure seniors are not in isolation, in unfit habitations or living in conditions that present fire and safety risks (including mental health)
- Existing "Vulnerable Persons Registry"
- Existing partnership with B.A.S.I.C.
- Multiple and many resources in many areas that exist
- Excellent Older Adult Clubs/groups in community centres
- Older Adult Clubs in Vaughan –self serve their cultural groups well

- Transportation –Mobility Plus
- Exercise programs through Recreation at City of Vaughan
- Programs in Vaughan provided through agencies

Weaknesses

- Fees for Recreation activities too high
- Recreation activities across the City for older adults are not equal e.g. west end vs. east end
- More housing options for seniors to age in place needed/seniors want to remain in their homes and live independently
- New homes/buildings are not senior-friendly- lots of stairs
- No formal seniors' education program locally through educational institutions eg. Ryerson etc.
- Caregiver programs are not comprehensive /need to give a break to caregivers/family members caring for seniors
- Need large seniors' hub (one-stop centre that provides information/resources for seniors)
- Scattered services /absence of one-stop service centre for seniors' issues
- Lack of home services for seniors i.e. groceries, cleaning for seniors that cannot leave the house
- Transportation, especially subsidized and for disabled requires improvement
- Need more space for seniors- not enough room for seniors.
- Elder abuse issues -financial/physical - seniors not coming forward due to cultural issues of not wanting to speak about these kind of issues
- Bottom-up community engagement should happen -what are seniors saying about their needs
- Those lower income workers that are now seniors are living in poverty- benefits and pension are not enough to live on
- More handicap parking required at public facilities.

Opportunities

- Creating service hubs for older adults in community buildings and schools
- Bottom up consultation- go to people for ideas and issues
- Transit system – way to help improve seniors' lives
- Built environment -planning for active communities/close by destinations, easy physical access to community resources/parks, community hubs (e.g. commercial shopping areas)
- Accessibility legislation- accessibility for seniors or for seniors that have physical limitations
- Vaughan's open spaces and buildings
- Connected sidewalks and trails system
- Traffic signals crossing time -make sensitive to older generations.
- Subsidize services to lower income for older adults only; those that can pay should pay
- Home sharing for seniors- ability to collect rental income while living with someone that can help older adults still living in home
- Grants /funding opportunity to service older adults is expanding
- Free programming through various agencies
- Take advantage of Provincial investment
- Intergenerational programs to help with socialization and isolation
- Pedestrian and Bicycle Master Plan -opportunity to help with infrastructure development and accessibility
- City policies, programs, master plans
- Creating non-cultural based older adult groups that are managed and operated by older adult volunteers
- Ensuring both men and women have programs they each would like to participate in.

Threats

- Older adult population is increasing as a demographic group - resources must be put towards this age group or critical social issue will be result
- Government debt -long-term sustainability of programs and services for older adults may not be possible with government debt at upper levels
- Lack of beds in nursing homes creates stress for families/caregivers.
